

Company Profile

Kembla Watertech Pty Ltd is a specialised pipeline rehabilitation contractor with over 18 years experience in Australia and overseas. Kembla Watertech is committed to working in partnership with its clients to deliver the highest quality products and services using the safest and most efficient and sustainable processes.

Kembla Watertech has been active in the pipeline rehabilitation industry since 1993 and has a team of over 150 experienced and trained personnel, who operate an enviable suite of products and services from around the world and customised to meet unique Australian conditions. Kembla has invested heavily in acquiring state-of-the-art technology in order to offer the most cost effective solutions to critical environmental problems, such as deteriorated sewers. Kembla has a proven track record, second to none, in the introduction and operation of new technology in Australia.

Accreditations

With Quality, OHS&R and Environmental Accreditation, Kembla Watertech readily accepts its accountability to clients, staff and the environment with a strong focus on customer service being fundamental to fulfilling this responsibility.

History

The company started business as Kembla Constructions Pty Ltd operating out of offices in Wollongong. In 1993 the volume of work was such that the company relocated to offices in Sydney and, in 2000, changed its name to Kembla Watertech Pty Ltd. As testament to the great company culture and success, it is interesting to note that many long-term employees still make the long commute to work each day from the Wollongong area.

being awarded the largest single sewer reticulation contract ever let in Australia. Kembla Watertech offers clients a suite of solutions to best suit each project, with manhole rehabilitation, junction seals, patches, large diameter relining and pipe bursting just to name a few.

The company has taken a leading role in the development of the Australian trenchless technology industry with a number of significant milestones reached over the last 18 years, including Kembla Watertech is proud of its history, growth and reputation in conjunction with the critical role it has played in the development and support of the Australian trenchless technology industry.

Foundations

Kembla Watertech Pty Ltd has over 18 years experience in Australia. We bring with us innovative and proven processes and procedures, grown from strong foundations, which allow us to consistently deliver projects on time and on budget.

Our reputation for reliability and credibility maintains our strong ties with clients and our emphasis on partnerships, integrity, safety and community relations ensures highest quality outcomes.

1800 803 861

www.kemblawatertech.com.au